National House,
Harlow st. Bangor, Maine,

JOHN STOCKMAN, - - - - - Proprietor.

THIS HOUSE, situated in the business part of the City, has been re-fitted and furnished, and is now open for the travelling public.

The Proprietor hopes by strict and personal attention to receive a liberal share of patronage.

The tables will be furnished with the best the Market affords, and every attention paid to the wants of his guests.

There is attached to this House a good STABLE with attentive Ostlers. Charges Moderate.

Passengers taken to and from cars and boats.

Stages leave House daily for all parts of country

LYNDE HOTEL

ROCKLAND, MAINE,

G. A. LYNDE, - - Proprietor.

THE HOUSE has been erected the present season, on the corner of Park and Main St. Rockland, and is now open for the public patronage.

Clean beds, pleasant rooms, good fare, and careful attendance, will be offered to the guests of this House, and no pains will be spared to make their stay agreeable. Nearly every room looks out upon the bay, and every room in the house is pleasant, thus affording to persons desirous of enjoying the sea breeze and spending the summer months, an opportunity to do so, without locating on an island, where they can enjoy the sea air, and nothing else.

Have taken especial pains to prepare convenient sample rooms.

Carriages to take passengers to and from the house free of charge.

Good Livery Stable connected with the house, and good stable for transient horses.

WEBSTER HOUSE

383 Hanover St., Boston,

A. FISHER, Proprietor.

FRANK S. BLOCKWAY, CLERK.

The above house having been re-fitted, is now open to the public.

Board, 7 00 per week and upwards, according to Rooms. Transient, 2 00 per Day. Lodgings, 75 cents, and 1 00 per night.

A first class Barber Shop, and Hot and Cold Baths in the House.

My intention is to make this house a Home, IN FACT for Travellers. The Table and accommodations are at least equal to any in this City, and far superior to many whose pretentions are far greater. In the heart of business, the most convenient for northern and eastern travel, and of easy access to all places of amusement.

NEW HOTEL.

American House, Dover, Maine.

HARVEY N. GREELY, Proprietor.

This modern House is located on Main, Corner of middle Streets, opposite Post Office.

The "American House" is all now with New Furniture. Its apartments are equal, and perhaps superior, to any in the country. The tables will be furnished with the best the market affords, and no pains will be spared to make this a quiet and comfortable home for all. Connected with the house is a fine HALL for Parties and Balls. Also Stable and Carriage House, BILLIARD ROOM, HAIR DRESSING ROOM, and SAMPLE ROOM. Free Carriages to and from the cars. Stages leave this House daily for all parts of the country.

Dwellers in the City are invited to try the "AMERICAN" for day or weekly board. Prices less than it costs to stay at home.

J. EDGAR THOMSON, } Trustees.
CHARLES L. FROST, }

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul and Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated, will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these Bonds to investors as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these Bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9¼ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

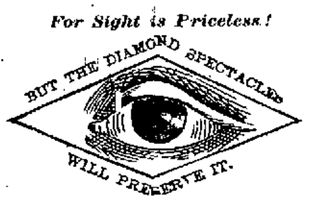
Money Cannot Buy It.

For Sight is Priceless!



THE DIAMOND GLASSES,

Manufactured by J. E. SPENCER & CO., New York which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the World to be the MOST PERFECT, Natural, Artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond" on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

The Scientific Principle on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are mounted in the finest manner, in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose. Their finish and durability cannot be surpassed.

CAUTION.—None genuine unless bearing their trade mark <> stamped on every frame.

Chalybeate Spring Water!

BOTTLED FROM

THE SPRING, AT KATAHDIN IRON WORKS, ME.

This water holds in solution a large proportion of IRON, with SULPHUR and a trace of ARSENIC, and, from its combination, is one of the best means of restoring an impoverished blood to a healthy state.

It is peculiarly adapted to relieve debilitated conditions of the urinary organs, and in many cases has completely cured persons who have tried many other medicines without any relief.

It can be taken at any hour of the day—but after meals is preferable—in quantities from one half pint to two pints per day. It blackens the stools and produces other changes that occur in taking iron in any form.

THE AMERICAN

STANDARD

WASHING SOAP.

This new Soap is fast coming into general use, and is the washer's favorite.

"The Best Soap I ever Used,"

Is the unanimous verdict after one trial.

It does the work in a manner which gives perfect satisfaction.

Would you practice economy?

Then use the STANDARD SOAP.

It does not, when in use, absorb more water than is necessary, while nearly all other Soaps, (as is well known) absorb water nearly equal to a sponge, become soft, and waste uselessly away.

Hence it is ECONOMY to use the STANDARD, one bar of which will accomplish more with less labor, than the same amount of any other Soap in the market, and one trial is amply sufficient to prove it.

WAR NOTES

A special dispatch to the N. Y. Herald, dated Versailles 29th inst. gives the following details of the capitulation of Paris:

Valerien was entered last night by the Prussian engineers to draw the mines. Heavy guns will be immediately moved into the Forts, or Enciente and strongly armed, as no confidence can be placed in the fickle population of Paris, until after a general disarming. Strong forces of infantry and artillery moved forward to cover the working parties. The object is to spare further bloodshed and give an opportunity for the French people, through the assembly of representatives, to decide for war or peace. Elections will be permitted in all the Departments, together with a free circulation of deputies through the country. The army of Paris, regiments of the line, Marines and Mobiles, are to be prisoners of war, with the exception of 12,000 men required to maintain order in Paris. All the corps of Franc-Tireurs are to be dissolved, but the National Guard will remain armed.

The French will deliver their arms, flags, and field artillery at Sevran. The cannons of the forts are to be dismounted, and the carriage given the Prussians, but the guns themselves will be left. A line of demarcation is drawn between the Enciente and the Forts, the French portion extending to the Enciente only, and the Prussian portion to 500 paces from the Enciente, with certain topographical modifications. Fort Vincennes will remain in the hands of the French. Paris remains completely invested from the military point of views, but three railway lines are to be repaired and permitted to convey supplies, for the daily nourishment of the population. Bourbaki's army and the Fortress of Belfort, are not comprehended in the armistice. The line of demarcation for the Southern armies, is to be the line of the Loire.

Favre returned to Paris yesterday evening —Gen. Veldeh, chief of Vinoy's staff, and Capt. Harrison, aide of Trochu, with three Directors of the Mediterranean, Orleans, and Western Railways, accompanied him. It is reported that not more than a week's rations remain in Paris at the present time. The French in Versailles, are generally rejoiced at the approach of peace.

A Berlin dispatch dated Sunday, 2 P. M., describes the reception of the news at the capital:

The City is in a perfect frenzy of excitement, now that the certainty of the capitulation of Paris is known. A telegram from the Federal Chancellor gives official confirmation of the news received at a late hour last night. To-day, church bells have been ringing since daybreak, and several services in the churches were attended by crowds of worshippers. Sermons on peace were delivered, and prayers of thanksgiving for it, offered. Before and after morning service in the churches, large crowds gathered in front of the Palace, and the ladies of the royal household appeared at the windows and waved acknowledgments to the people. The scenes in the street were beyond description. Every person on his way to church, as he met his neighbor, stopped to embrace, and the women congratulated each other with tears in their eyes. The news of capitulation certainly creates in the public mind here, a charitable feeling, and there is a strong desire to act generously towards the fallen foe.

A CHALLENGE TO THE "TRIBUNE." A correspondent having expressed a desire to cowhide somebody connected with the N. Y. Tribune, on behalf of the Erie ring, and omitting to sign his name, the editor called attention to the omission, whereupon the following missive was discharged at point blank range:—

SIR: As you have had no delicacy enough for understand the motif Who had governed me in my note of Friday last. Let me explain to you, that if I have requested you to suppriss my name, It is because I don't like that the Erie Managers, can suppose for a minute that I Was guided by a monetary motif in taking their part. Me, poor Stranger against you the Mighty and Wealty Editor of the N. Y. Tribune. But so far, that you, With your devilish Smartness, induce the public to believe this it is because I am ashamed of the part, I have taken in this Case, that I have Written the P. S.: If you print the above don't print my name.

I believe it is my duty, to put aside the above consideration. Consequently, I Renew my demand asking for the Second time When or Where I Can meet, those aides de comp of Yours and autorizing you to print my name in full. Your obedient Servant

CONSTANT CLAUDE.

[Mr. Constant Claude can meet "those aides de comp" of ours any day at this office. —Ed.]

WASHINGTON GOSSIP. A correspondent of The Brooklyn Union—understood to be a distinguished literary gentleman from the West, now on a visit to the Capital—has elicited from "a very sagacious member of the House of Representatives" the following opinions: First: "We have had no leader since old Thad died." Second: "Butler is a noisy man, unscrupulous, cunning, infinite in resources, of unabashed front, and as fond of notoriety as a toper is of his cups. No one can deny that he has brains—just as good brains as can be had without a conscience. But he does not lead us." Third: "Mr. Dawes is a strong man in the House—Strong by his long membership, and the prestige of great experience, and by his industry, and by the credit he enjoys of being an honest man. He is not a great man. No one ever accused him of that. But his opinion on many subjects is really of great weight with us. And yet his opinion would be more valued if he was more economical with it. He bestows it too lavishly. In short, he talks too much." Fourth: "Banks has the carriage, the dashing presence of an uncommon man. He open looks as if he knew more than he would willingly tell. Indeed I am sometimes reminded of what Fox said to Lord Thurlow: 'No man ever was so wise as Thurlow looks.' Banks has a magnificent voice; and on the whole he is the most brilliant orator on the floor. But oratory—who cares for oratory anymore? Legislation is committee work; and the fine orator is now but a carpet knight. Banks is a man whose glory is in the past." Fifth: "Garfield has on his side youth, splendid health, learning, high spirit, great power of application, and good habits. Garfield may feel happy whether he looks either way—into the past or into the future."

KEEP YOUR TOP COOL. Artemus Ward once during a journey across the Plains offered a stage-driver a drink of whiskey from his flask, which was refused in most decided terms. Said the driver.—

"I don't drink. I won't drink. I don't like to see anybody else drink. I am of the opinion of those mountains—keep your top cool. They've got snow and I've got brains: that's all the difference."

There is a wealth of wisdom in the sententious remark, "Keep your top cool." The foundation of man's power and happiness is in his brain. Alcohol is a foe of the brain, and when it gets there, either benumbs it or its action. Remember the stage driver's curt philosophy.

The Grand Council of the Workingmens' Benevolent Association, will meet at Pittston, Pa., on Tuesday, and it is believed that a general resumption of coal mining is likely soon to be ordered.

JOHN H LYNDE, - PROPRIETOR.

TUESDAY JAN. 31, 1871.

THE FUTURE OF FRANCE

"France is the centre of civilized nations, Paris is the centre of France, and the Boulevard des Italiens is the centre of Paris"

The sentence is French and its spirit, say the N Y Times is typical of the belief that has dominated France for more than two hundred years. Napoleon I was the adored of the nation because he embodied a splendid revival of the combined glories of Louis XIV and Henri IV, Napoleon III was a possibility because he represented a principle a cause and a defeat, and promised to revive the prestige that Bourbon, Citizen King and Republic had alike failed to retain. And now, every Frenchman behind the desolate circle that fronts the forts in which he trusted so vainly is reaping the whirlwind because the wind was sowed by those who preceded him—a proceeding he confessed indorsed by many marks of his approval. Henceforth the Arch of Triumph is a perpetual satire to the reflective Parisian. Versailles is a monument of [illegible] wounded national honor, the Tuileries may furnish apartments to King William and be thereafter a memory of [illegible] to two generations of Parisians. Of course it is quite possible that the Germans may content themselves with the military occupation of the exterior forts, and may spare the hated garrison and people the spectacle of their hosts passing under the proud architectural monument of the triumphs of the great Emperor. Whatever condition may [illegible] she will see enough of her foes to make her feel quite as unmistakably as she has done without seeing them, that the [illegible] of her abasement must be drained to the dregs.

And yet there is this comfort for Paris as for France that a nobler and greater future is before her. She has cradled and she has trained republican liberty before now. But the experience of three generations must at length have taught her that her only safety is in cherishing and fostering the nascent freedom that she again holds in her hands. The third Republic has been the child of labor and sorrow but it will be the more tenderly cherished and the more highly prized on that account. The proud boast of, "when France is satisfied Europe is tranquil," will be replaced by the nobler one of, 'with France republican Europe cannot be long enslaved.' And here, as the European centre of art literature politics and industry, inspired by the free and progressive spirit of a self governed people Paris will be a greater power in the civilized world than she has ever been before and with the light of freedom on her beautiful bold brow,' will rise from her abasement with lineaments far more lovely than those she bore before her fall.

A word to the Waterville Mail.—On Saturday the 21st inst. the Whig and Courier contained nearly three columns of extracts from the report of the 'Paper Credits Commissioners comprising all that has yet been published in the State. On the same day the Mail appeared without a single line of information upon the subject beyond some high sounding editorial assurances of its own purity coupled with charges of concealment against other papers which had been prompt in furnishing their readers with the material necessary to an intelligent judgment and the promise "Next week we will give its substance."

We deemed it proper to notice the unjustifiable and very discourteous reference to our course and suggested that the Mail would be better employed in furnishing its readers with news than in misrepresenting those who do. On Saturday the 28th inst ten days subsequent to the submission of the Commissioners report the Mail appeared again and so far from redeeming its pledge to give the substance of that document it does not publish a line of it but regrets that it has "not [illegible] the report has come [illegible] but when the revelation is complete [illegible] we will give its substance to its readers."

Perhaps the readers of that paper prefer to have their news filtered through the editorial columns and we certainly have not the slightest objection to their indulgence on that point but we repeat our suggestion that a little more modesty in its treatment of those who choose to give their readers an opportunity to exercise their judgment would be very becoming. The little effort at fine writing devoted to us in its last issue which for aught we know may be sarcastic is doubtless pleasing to the writer but as it has no interest for the public we have nothing more to say to the Mail at present.

The New York papers urge the American people to send food to mitigate the sufferings of the surviving victims of the French Prussian war. The Tribune says "Great Britain and other European countries will doubtless do nobly but we too, should promptly send several cargoes of food to the famishing millions of French. Hundreds of thousands must perish of want, unless saved by the voluntary contributions of bread and money from abroad. We venture to suggest the prompt organization in this city of a systematic and vigorous effort to bring the needs of the wounded, sick houseless, foodless myriads home to every American hearth. Bear in mind that the moments are precious and that European charity will have been exhausted by the time our first contributions can reach French ports."

Our relations with Mexico at the present time are considered very critical, caused by the course of the people of Mexico in relation to the Zona Libra. The opinion is entertained by those familiar with all the facts, that Mexico will have to abandon the position she has assumed on the question, or the United States will be compelled to use force to protect its own border from the wholesale smuggling which is now carried on in open defiance of the officers and the laws.

A bill is pending in the Massachusetts Legislature with good prospect of becoming a law requiring every town in the Commonwealth having 3,500 and more inhabitants to establish and maintain, in addition to the schools required by law to be maintained therein, evening schools, to be kept at least four months in every year, for the education of persons over sixteen years of age.

The N Y Times, in commenting upon Governor Hoffman's message upon the purity of elections, refers pointedly to his opposition to the Registration law which affords almost the only security against fraudulent voting, and states the case plainly, as follows

"Read in the light of his own history, and with a knowledge of his personal and party associations, his Message is very shallow hypocrisy. For "the whole organization and structure of the government" are endangered most of all by the power which made him what he is, and keeps him where he is. And the "men who seek their own advancement by corrupting their fellows," and should therefore "be convicted and punished as criminals," are his own bosom friends, and masters of the Legislature whose interposition he invokes."

The sub-Committee of the Com. on reconstruction, consisting of Porter, Upton, and Morgan, on Monday unanimously agreed to report to the Com. in favor of the Senate bill repealing the Test Oath.

The New York Post, which has vigorously opposed unnecessary interference in the domestic affairs of the Southern States, in its Washington correspondence says, "If the reports received from Tennessee can be relied upon, a regular reign of terror exists in certain counties of that State, and the Republicans are persecuted constantly, and in many cases put to death. A prominent Republican writing from Fentress county, says that the authorities need not be surprised to hear that hostilities have again begun, as the Union men are becoming desperate, and will take the law in their own hands soon unless better protection is afforded them."

The Late Thomas Garrett. On Tuesday night last, Thomas Garrett died at his residence in Wilmington, Del, aged 82 years. Mr Garrett was prominently known as an original Abolitionist, being a member of the Society of Friends and always an inveterate hater of slavery. Many a poor slave escaping from bondage and seeking the free air of the North, met with kindly assistance at the hands of Thomas Garrett. Of course living in a slave State, he was an object of persecution from the upholders of the system and on several occasions was fined heavily for aiding fugitives in their efforts to escape. He lived to see the triumph of right, and has passed away respected and honored by all.

Under the head of "Torturing Tilton" the Springfield Republican says "There is a disposition to crowd Mr Theodore Tilton, late of the Independent, a little too hard. Mr Bowen not only drove him summarily out of the Independent editorial chair, but also out of that of the Brooklyn Union, and now his successor in the Independent has rejected the first of his promised personal contributions to that paper."

Female Declaration of Independence. Mrs I B Hooker who is a sister of Henry Ward Beecher, has prepared a declaration of independence for her sex, and is organizing a National Committee to engineer the enfranchisement of the women of the Republic. At a meeting of ladies in Washington Mrs Governor Jewell of Connecticut and Mrs Creamer, President Grant's sister, signed the declaration, and Mrs Grant, it is said, sent word that although unavoidably kept away her heart was enlisted in the cause, and she wished it success. Several of the wives and daughters of New England Congressmen are in this new movement.

A correspondent of the N Y Tribune writing from Montreal says

"Shipbuilding, once the main stay of the city, has decreased to ridiculous proportions, only 10 vessels, 6,835 tons, being on the stocks. No more ardent annexationists exist than the ship-laborers."

Gen Sickles gave a grand state banquet to the Spanish Cabinet and Diplomatic Corps, on the conclusion of important negotiations between the U S and Spain.

Mr Chaves, Delegate from New Mexico, will make an effort to have a bill passed this week, providing for the admission of that territory as a State.

There is a rumor that Senator Thayer will be appointed Minister to Portugal, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr Shellabarger.

A rough Western Pennsylvanian once said of the late John Covode "He hasn't much learning but he knows a heap." The criticism was shrewdly correct. There is another class of men who are the exact opposites of Mr Covode. They have a heap of learning, but don't know much.

A bill has been prepared, and will be introduced in the National House of Representatives in a few days, taking preliminary action toward obtaining damages from the British Oriental Steamship Company, for the loss of United States steamer Oneida last summer.

There has been introduced into the New York Legislature an elaborate bill for the regulation of prostitution in New York city. It creates a Board of three Commissioners, and provides for license and supervision. The Clerk in reading the bill by title, made a happy emendation, calling it an act for the protection of vice, instead of its prevention, as written by its author.

Charles H. Woodell one of the proprietors of the Worcester, Mass., Gazette, died on Monday, after a brief but severe illness. He was for a number of years on the Boston Daily Advertiser as a reporter and correspondent, and has been connected with other Boston papers. He was a Mason and a member of the G. A. R. having served during the war.

Gen. Schenck expects to sail for England on the 11th of February, accompanied by his three daughters.

Francis P. Sage, one of the oldest and most prominent members of the flour and grain trade of New York city, died on Thursday.

F H Roland, city editor of the Cincinnati Leader, has sued Frank Leslie for $20,000 damages for publishing a story of his (Roland's) being whipped by a woman.

At the entertainment recently given by Congressman Cox to his Democratic friends, it is said "Little groups gathered here and there to discuss the chances of the various candidates for the next Presidency. The favorites for the Democratic nomination seemed to be Hancock and Hendricks."

DR SCHENCK ADVISES CONSUMPTIVES TO GO TO FLORIDA IN WINTER

Having for the last thirty five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerable [illegible] of [illegible] diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold and the best of all places on this continent for this purpose in winter is Florida well down in the State, where the temperature is regular and not subject to such variations as in more northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Peterman. Last winter I saw several persons there whose lungs had been badly diseased but who under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines were getting well.

One hundred miles further down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka as the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Mellonville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Mellonville. It is two miles from river or lake and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better and patients complain at times, but that is a good sign as it indicates a return of appetite and when this is the case they generally increase in flesh and then the lungs must heal.

Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove and many other places in various parts of Florida can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature and it is not necessary to say that where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds he is certain to die shortly therefore my advice is go well down into the State, out of the reach of prevailing east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver a disordered stomach deranged bowels sore throat or cough but for those whose lungs are diseased a more southern point is earnestly recommended.

For fifteen years prior to 1869 I was professionally in New York Boston Baltimore, and Philadelphia every week where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive embracing every possible phase of lung disease has enabled me to understand the disease fully and hence my caution in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold.

In Florida nearly everybody is using Schenck's Mandrake Pills, for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than more northern latitudes. It is a well-established fact, that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption, especially those of the southern part. On the other hand, in New England one-third at least of the population die of this terrible disease. In the Middle States it does not prevail so largely still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh colds as they are about scarlet fever, small pox &c but they are not. they take what they term a little cold which they are credulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope of cure.

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected even slightly is to lay in a stock of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup Schenck's Seaweed Tonic, and Schenck's Mandrake Pills and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know that, where they are used in strict accordance with my directions they will do the work that is required. This accomplished nature will do the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold cough, or night sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long.

My plan is to give my three medicines in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a freer use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary. My object is to give tone to the stomach,—to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry. I have hopes of such. With a relish for food and a gratification of that relish comes good blood and with it more flesh which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs —then the cough loosens and abates the creeping chills and clammy night sweats no longer prostrate and annoy and the patient gets well provided he avoids taking cold.

Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is and ever has been to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system and can do so again. Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease if it is taken in time and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed on record that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup Mandrake Pills and Seaweed Tonic have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on the liver better than calomel, and leave none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact, they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit, and diarrhea ensues, a dose of the Mandrakes will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache, take a dose of the Mandrakes and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of a change of water, or the too free indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrakes every night, and you may then drink water, and eat watermelons, pears, apples, plums, peaches or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They can do you only good.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9, A M, to 3, P M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understood, that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say, that when persons take my medicines, and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold; yet no one with diseased lungs can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes.

Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear, that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be bought from any druggist. J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.,

PIANO FORTES

Put in complete order to tone and tune without the necessity of sending them to a factory. The subscriber from Boston continues to offer his services to the citizens of Bangor and vicinity in every department of Piano Forte work. Being a practical Piano Forte worker of nearly twenty years experience and more recently from the manufactory of Messrs CHICKERING & SONS of Boston where he has been employed for more than six years in the Regulating Department gives him the utmost assurance that he can offer himself fully to the confidence of the Musical Public. Those who may be contemplating sending their Pianos to Boston to be put in order can have the opportunity to forego that inconvenience and expense by leaving their orders with Messrs LOWELL & SPENCER, Music Dealers No, 14 Main Street can have the same work accomplished without moving them from the house the renewing of which will render the action susceptible to the most delicate touch, and increase the power volume and purity of tone to their original capacity. Together with a style of tuning which will produce the most desirable results. Warranted to give satisfaction or no pay. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited

RAILROAD

Extension Bonds.

It is generally well known that the Maine Central Railroad, terminates at Danville Junction and from thence to Portland the Road is a part of the Grand Trunk Railway. For the use of this piece of Road (some 28 miles the Maine Central pays to the Grand Trunk a rental which for some years past has amounted to some $ [illegible] 000 per annum. The Maine Central having leased the Portland & Kennebec R R and thus joined that entire Road with its own under one management has decided to obviate the necessity of using the Grand Trunk road from Danville to Portland by building an Extension of its own road from Danville Junction to CUMBERLAND using the Portland and Kennebec R R from thence to Portland.

This Extension has already been surveyed and more than three fourths of the requisite grading and all the stone work and masonry completed and the road will be ready for the iron already contracted for in the Spring, and prepared for business soon afterward. To aid in accomplishing this work the Maine Central Railroad has issued its Bonds to the amount of $500 000 payable in thirty years from October 1st 1870.

These Bonds are secured by a First and only Mortgage upon the Extension and the Entire line of the Maine Central with all its property (which would readily sell for three times the amount of its Bonded debt,) is holden for the payment of the Interest and Principal of these Bonds

The security is

UNQUESTIONABLE.

A large part of this issue has already been taken in this and other States, and the remainder is offered for sale at a price which makes them one of the most desirable investments in the market

The Bonds bear Interest at the rate of six per cent per annum and both

Principal and Interest payable

IN GOLD.

Free from Government Tax

Coupons Payable in Boston, April 1st and October 1st in each Year.

When it is considered that by building this Extension the Road can have a complete line of its own through to Portland at an outlay of some $30,000 (gold,) per year for interest, instead of paying some $70,000 per year rental to another corporation, the commendable economy of the undertaking will be apparent.

The local business alone, on the Extension will be profitable, besides the advantage to the Road of thus being connected by the same gauge with all the great Railroads of the Country

Bonds issued in denominations of $500 and $1000 each.

The highest market price will be allowed for Government, State, and City Bonds, Bonds of other Railroads and Corporations, and all marketable securities, in exchange for above.

Memorials were presented by Messrs Fenton Conkling and Sumner from the Kings County N Y Homeopathic and other medical societies in reference to the establishment of a National University at Washington Congress to make the establishment of one or more professorships of Homeopathy, as a pre requisite to a charter for the same

Mr Wilson from the Military Committee reported favorably the House bill extending the benefits of the Soldiers' National Asylum to the soldiers of 1812 and Mexican wars also adversely on the bill relative to the sale of the arsenal at Pittsburgh The latter bill was indefinitely postponed

Mr Nye from the Com on Territories reported back with amendments bills to provide State forts in New Mexico and Colorado

A resolution of the minority of the Judiciary Committe declaring Joshua I Hill entitled to a seat as Senator from Georgia was read and Mr Trumbull in support of the validity of the election, proceeded to detail the circumstances under which it took place

Mr Stewart moved as a substitute for the majority resolution that of the minority declaring that Farrow and Whitley were entitled to seats in the Senate. Rejected by a vote of 9 to 38 Further discussion ensued but without disposing of the subject the Senate then adjourned

HOUSE

Bills were introduced and referred as follows

By Mr Morrill of Maine—declaring that any one who shall sell or give to any civil, military or naval officer of the Government, intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage shall be deemed guilty of crime against the peace of society and on conviction thereof be punished by fine and imprisonment Also providing that all employes or officers of the Government who shall continue to use intoxicating liquors or shall become at all intoxicated shall be summarily dismissed and shall not be reinstated for two years By Mr Ferris of N Y—to extend the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims By Mr Schofield of Penn,—to extend to the officers of the military and naval service the benefit of the act furnishing artificial limbs to disabled soldiers By Mr Mungen of Ohio—requesting information from the President as to the employment of Military officers in civil duties at the White House By Mr Burchard of Ill—authorizing banking associations whose circulation is limited under the act of July 12 1870 in States in which all additional circulation has not been taken to supply and reserve a circulation of $500,000 by that act

The most of the morning then was consumed in reading the bills introduced

The following joint resolution introduced by Mr Butler of Mass was passed under suspension of rules 172 to 21

Resolved that the Congress of the United States in the name and on behalf of the people of the United States we give to J O Donovan Rossa Thomas Clark Ruby John O'Leary Thomas F Barker, Charles Underwood O'Connell and their associates, Irish exiles a cordial welcome to the Capitol, also to the country, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to them by the President of the United States The negative votes were given by Ambler, Bailey, Benjamin Blair of Mich Dixon McDixon R I Ferris Hale, Hawkins, Hoar, Jencks Kelsey of N Y Knap, Laflin Peters, Pomeroy Taffe, Tanner Wicher and Bingham of Ohio

The Judiciary Com made a report on memorial of Victoria C Woodhull asking that a declaratory law be passed by Congress, that under the Fifteenth Amendment, women were allowed to vote Ordered to be printed and recommitted The report argues against the claim of the Senate bill appropriating one hundred thousand dollars for the prosecution of the work on the St Mary's Falls canal and St Mary's river, Mich Passed

The Senate resolution for the appointment of Gen William T Sherman Regent of the Smithsonian Institute and for the reference to the Court of Claims of the claims of persons against the Government in connection with building vessels of war were concurred in

The bill increasing to five dollars per day the compensation of the census enumerators, in cases where it fell below that amount was passed

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

The oldest inhabitant called yesterday a 'weather breeder'

—Camphor rubbed on the hands will cure the bites of mosquitoes,

—Moistened cloth placed in the hat will often prevent sunstroke

—Why don't we have evening concerts on the park?

—The boys had a jolly time snow balling and making snow images, yesterday

—Sleighs with chaise-tops appear to be quite popular among our physicians

—The sleighing was capital yesterday and was enjoyed by fully half the population of the city

—We learn that about half a ton of poultry recently sent to Boston market has been returned to this city—the prices here being higher just now than in Boston Turkies sold here yesterday for 22 @ 23 cents per lb

—The mild weather yesterday brought out the loafers on the lower bridge, and a knot of great lazy, hulking fellows stood on the lower sidewalk nearly all day, insulting ladies as they passed and obstructing the way to every body

The Drummer Boy A large audience gathered last evening in Norombega Hall to witness the first representation of the great military drama entitled the Drummer Boy or the Spy of the Shenandoah Though there were a few 'outs' and 'wants' usually attending a first performance and which will be remedied in the second, the piece was brought out in excellent style giving entire satisfaction to all. The parts with few exceptions were well sustained in an easy natural manner which was not at all "stagy" and they will appear still better to night, when the actors shall have become shaken down into their places. The tableux were finely arranged and put upon the stage, and altogether the affair bids fair to meet the great success in this city which it has in every place where it has been performed Go and see it to night

Col. R. C Shannon, who has been lecturing upon Brazil with much success in the western part of our State, proposes shortly visiting this section and will probably speak in Bangor sometime next week. A graduate of Colby University of the class of '63, he enlisted as a volunteer soldier in the old 5th Maine, and served in the army thro'-out the entire war. Having resided for some three years in Brazil while the Paraguayan war was going on, serving for a time as English editor of the Government organ at Rio, and also Brazilian correspondent of the New York Tribune, Col. Shannon ought to give us a very entertaining and instructive lecture.—From the character of the press notices that have come to us, from time to time, regarding his merits as a speaker, we have no hesitation in warmly recommending him to public notice and favor.

—The Argus says that a meeting of leading citizens of Portland, was held on Wednesday evening last, to consult as to the measures required to protect the interest of the city in connection with the movements to secure lines of railway through and around Portland for the benefit of the trade of other localities—and in opposition to a discrimination in fares and freight against the trade and business of Portland. Littell, No 1391, has a significant article from the 'Spectator,' entitled 'Foreign Policy and no Policy," with a paper on "Mr Bright's Retirement,' and another on his 'Resignation" that will be read with interest Littell & Gay, Boston

Our Magazine for February is an improvement upon the preceding numbers, containing as it does besides several well selected stories and poems, a fair proportion of original articles, while the pages devoted to Friendly Counsels," "Housekeeper's Department" and "Literary Gossip," are certainly among the most entertaining as well as useful in the whole magazine. William R. Mattison Newton, New Jersey

Brown, Thurston & Co, of Portland, have just republished in pamphlet form, a "Discourse by Rev John T Wightman, delivered in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South Yorkville, S C on the day of National Thanksgiving for the victory at Manassas A curious tissue of boastful prophecies and convenient texts, interspersed with invectives upon 'the vermin and reptile that crawl from the dens and dungeons of the North, to eat up holy bread sent to nourish the bearers of the ark.' A sermon that strongly reminds one of the old adage "not to count your chickens before they are hatched"

BANGOR MERCANTILE ASSOCIATION

REPORT OF DIRECTORS

To the Members and Friends of the Bangor Mercantile Association

In welcoming you to these new rooms, and congratulating you upon the possession at last of commodious apartments in which this valuable Library will be more available for all purposes of instruction and amusement as well as reasonably secure against further loss by fire the Directors ask your attention to a brief statement of the condition of the Association and of methods of increasing its usefulness to ourselves and the public

Established in 1843 with a small fund contributed by a few merchants the report of 1844 showed 240 members and an outlay of five hundred dollars for the first year In 1845 a union having been effected with the Social Library, there were 278 members and subscribers, and the catalogue showed 2300 volumes on hand In 1848 with 2400 volumes and 250 paying members, the circulation is reported at 10 000 for the year In 1851 the assessment was increased to $4 per year and during that and the two succeeding years the income was somewhat increased by the profits from courses of lectures but for several years afterwards the receipts from all sources fell largely behind the expenses In 1855 the annual assessment was increased to five dollars and was not again changed till 1866 when the present rate six dollars was established—(merchants clerks and other young men (minors) without families pay only four dollars and clergymen may use the Library and News room without charge)

The average number of members and subscribers from 1855 to 1869 is reported at 200 from 200 to 400 volumes were added to the Library yearly and the average circulation for those years is set down at about 16 000 Occasional extra subscriptions were found necessary to keep down the debt which however had grown by the close of 1868 to nearly eight hundred dollars In 1869, the number of volumes is reported as 6 100 and the circulation about 17 000 The number of books added in year ending April 1859 was only 175 and there were but 221 members and subscribers The report in 1870 showed 413 members and subscribers an addition of 1984 volumes to the Library and a circulation of 7 645 volumes (a little over 100 volumes per day) The additions of books for the current year have not been so numerous as for last year though sufficient doubtless to retain our list of readers The catalogue now numbers over 10,000, volumes though losses in various ways have probably reduced the number of volumes actually on hand to about 9000 The continued high prices of books and the necessity if we wish to retain all our subscribers of supplying from our limited income the more popular books of the day have compelled us in many cases to defer the purchase of valuable works that should be on our shelves until your liberality shall furnish a fund to be drawn upon for that purpose Our Library might be made to sustain itself very well were it not for the necessity of maintaining the News room, with its 30 or 40 daily and weekly papers At least two thirds of the cost of that room is paid from money received from those of our subscribers who do not use it and hardly care to assist in maintaining it and our business men and others who desire its continuance must expect an occasional demand for means to support it It is thought that its value can be increased without much expense by making an arrangement with Telegraph Companies for reports of the markets and the weather to be posted therein once or twice a day

We need for immediate use twenty five hundred dollars, to enable us to clear the Association of debt, to pay the expenses of removal, for new furniture, and for a few hundred new books now much needed All but $700 of this amount is already subscribed and we hope this meeting may result in securing the remainder Even if your generosity should swell this fund to five or six thousand dollars, profitable uses can be found for at least its income

The suggestion in our last report, that provision should be made for keeping a room open in evenings, where young men could assemble for conversation or to amuse themselves with innocent games, &c, we would again urge forcibly upon your attention A step has been taken in this direction by granting the use of the Library Room one evening in the week, to the Bangor Literary Association, a society of young men holding weekly meetings for mutual improvement, and with only a small addition to our income we could afford to open the Library every evening for those who wish to read or study, and the room off the News room for chess and similar games In this way our rooms might soon be made successful competitors with the Billiard Rooms and other less creditable places of resort now so freely opened to the rising generation and much good thereby be accomplished A special fund for this purpose might be raised, or the expense might be paid from the general receipts, should they be sufficiently increased

The circular arrangement of our alcoves, in which we have followed partially the plan adopted by the Philadelphia Mercantile Association, gives us a small room in each corner behind the shelves, one of which is intended as a work-room for the Librarian, and the other (on the front) we call a student's room which is at the service of any subscriber who may wish to use therein our works of reference or other books. It is proposed to keep the reading tables on either side of this desk supplied with magazines, &c., for the benefit of all who may have time or inclination for reading in the Library. We are quite ready to receive donations of books of all kinds, especially of Encyclopedias, and other costly works of reference. Sufficient space has been left on the walls for the proper hanging of a few good pictures, and we shall be happy to assume the charge of such if our friends see fit to entrust them to our care.

Perhaps the one thing most needed to increase the efficiency of this really valuable collection of books, is a good catalogue; by which readers could learn the extent of our resources, without the loss of time now involved in studying the hardly legible backs of the volumes Mr Cass, the Librarian, has one prepared in manuscript, but we are unable now to meet the cost of having it printed This would be about five hundred dollars and perhaps it is safe to assume that about one half of the amount would be returned to us from sales of copies to members, so that with, say three hundred dollars at their disposal, the Library Committee would feel justified in undertaking the work

In carrying out their instructions to lease and prepare new rooms for the Association, the Board have been largely aided by the liberal and public spirited manner in which Mr Webster Treat, for himself and the other owners of this Block, has met their requests and fulfilled his engagements Our bargain with Messrs Treat & Co, was unwritten, but in every doubtful point it has been construed by them according to our wishes and in the most honorable and satisfactory way

To spare your time we omit the many arguments that might be urged in favor of liberally supporting so excellent an institution and hasten to conclude We have done what we could towards providing a suitable arena in which the Association and its friends can fight a good fight for the advancement of the highest interests of the community We feel confident that you will see to it that the armour and the weapons and all things necessary to make the contest successful shall be provided abundantly that the almost proverbial liberality of the business men of Bangor will no longer permit this Library to languish for want of a sufficient fund to enable it to take high rank among the many similar organizations of the country

A New Wonderful and Useful Invention,

[illegible]

Tidal Power,

Has been discovered at the expense of many years study and experiment which will revolutionize the method of obtaining power for driving machinery of all kinds

Although this power is obtained from the rise and fall of the tide [illegible] machinery can be driven at a long distance from the seat of power with this invention by means of a wire rope which is now in common use for similar purposes

This Machinery is so simple and occupies so little room that it can be erected on any wharf at little expense of the Machinery very trifling compared to other power

It will run for years without any expense and without any person to tend it the power being continuously obtained night and day if desired a common saw being sufficient to drive light machinery

This power can easily and effectually be applied to ring Fog Bells saving the Government thousands of dollars yearly needing no attention after being once set in motion

The principle by which a continuous motion of the Main Shaft is insured in a given direction can also be applied to Sewing Machines and prevent the possibility of the machine changing to the [illegible] some backward motion which breaks the thread by using this process on Sewing Machines [illegible] hands of the operator are entirely at liberty to [illegible] the work Children can run them without [illegible]

In manufacturing Sewing Machines [illegible] the Balance Wheels can be entirely dispensed with consequently making a great saving in [illegible] facturing This principle can be applied to every machine at a trifling cost

The application of this principle [illegible] to foot Lathes the motion of the foot being [illegible] perceptible and more speed attained than with the crank It also saves the motion of the body wh[illegible] propelling the machine and favors the [illegible]

The 'Close Treadle' for Sewing Machines constructed to embody the above named principle and capable of being applied to sewing machines of any size kind or shape are now being manufactured and in a few days may be seen at the clothing store of E C Smart on Exchange Street in operation attached to a sewing machine from the manufactory of B P Howe, successor to the late A B Howe the originator of the Improved Howe Sewing Machine

A license to manufacture and sell ten thousand of the Close Treadle' having been granted to A H. Kimball agent for the 'Improved Howe Sewing Machine, ' he will immediately introduce them to this market through his agents who will apply them to machines of any manufacture at prices so low that every person owning a Sewing Machine will be sure to have one

It is a useful and valuable invention, and is worthy of the investigation of all scientific men

Letters Patent were issued for this Invention dated December 27th, 1870, obtained through the agency of Fred H. Coombs of this City

FREEDOM IN ROME.

BY THE REV. PHEBE A. HANAFORD

(Dedicated to the Memory of Margaret Fuller.)

[illegible] woman soul! for freedom once contending,
[illegible] thee greeting o'er the solemn sea,
[illegible] thou the songs of grateful praise ascending,
[illegible] Margaret is free

[illegible] Italy is free forever!
[illegible] of story and the land of song!
[illegible] thine [illegible] endeavor,
[illegible] native land is free!—enchained so long

[illegible] sword was bathed in blood the bonds to sever,
[illegible] blood was shed by heroes long ago,
When thou wert there to bless the brave endeavor
[illegible] for those who bravely met the foe

[illegible] time had come and calmly softly falling
As falls the ripened leaves in Autumn's hour
[illegible] ballots fell, the trembling Pope appalling
As thus they marked the end of Papal power

[illegible] Margaret is the day of freedom dawning
[illegible] this side the solemn sea
Rejoice with us! fast comes the world's great morning
And [illegible] thine own loved Italy is free

Men and Faces From a chatty Washington letter to the N Y Tribune we extract the following

If one came to this country wishing to study the character of our people he could never find a better opportunity than a few days spent in the House of Representatives would afford him—a sort of condensed manual of our traits and habits open before him—For the average American is perfectly delineated in the 240 members there, be the same more or less—agreeable, useful, intelligent men, most of them well-to-do, here a superfine gentleman there a rowdy, yonder a scholar, an eighth of the number of people of superior capacity a two-hundred and fiftieth perhaps really great but who that two-hundred-and fiftieth man may be, each partisan or student must determine for himself

The knack which the people have of putting the right man in the right place is apparent at the first glance, when the Speaker is found in his seat—a man of such nervous energy and quickness and of such brawn and muscle that one thinks instantly of Homer's cœur de lion and is content to submit to the rulings of such a king of men Perhaps the new colored member is sworn in before him with an oath as terrible as the sensation novels' heroes swear one that whips the famous Masonic and secret society imprecations out of sight—the Democrats having failed to make their customary objection to the purest democratic movement of the age—while Mr Butler stands in the area, his hands in his pockets, surveying the work he initiated with the word contraband To the latter approaches Gen Schenck taking farewell of the scenes of many contests, and the two hob nob together as if they had never fought a hundred fights à l'outrance Here is another man in the right place—for while Gen Schenck, in a certain rather ponderous courtesy, will quite equal the English gentlemen with whom he will have to deal in his new mission, and has already some diplomatic experience, there is a pertinacity in the expression of that jaw of his, in the head slightly but unchangingly thrust forward from the breast, which assures you that what he once grasps he will hold with a death-grip.

A Reminiscence. A correspondent of the Advance, speaking of Mrs. Stowe's writing "Uncle Tom" in Brunswick, Maine, says:—

"The writer remembers certain pro-slavery sentiments uttered at the Monday ministers' meeting, in Brunswick, which were put into the mouth of a Southern minister in the chapters published shortly after It was a meeting at which Profs. Stowe, Upham and others spoke earnestly for the "Higher Law" and Pres. Woods and others against it."

The Chinamen at North Adams.—A correspondent of the Hartford Courant writes:—

The Chinamen have won their way to the respect and sympathy of the citizens of North Adams by their patience under insult. Their docility is evidently due, in large measure, to the influence of their interpreter, who signs his name "Charlie Sing," and who appears to have adopted the principles of Christianity. The New England agent, of the American Bible Society has visited them to see if he could render any aid in bringing them under the influence of the Bible. On his second visit he took them each a copy of the New Testament in the Chinese language, which most of them can read. Before presenting them he made a short address, referring to their having come to us from the other side of the globe, from the oldest of the nations to us the youngest, spoke of the influence of the Bible upon our nation invited them to take it as their guide and help to advance still more our civilization, and when they sent messages to their friends, or should themselves revisit them, he asked that they would commend it to them as the book which could not only make a youthful nation great, but a hoary nation young. They listened with profound silence, and Charlie Sing replied very briefly "We wish thank you, and through you the Bible society, for the kind gift of the Word of God. We will read them and hope they will do us all good" He repeated this to his countrymen in their language, and asked them if they agreed to it, to which they instantly bowed assent, and some of them in the rear of the room arose and waved their hands When the books were distributed they gathered around their donor and eagerly shook his hand, many of them saying in plain English, "I thank you" One seemed to think he could give no higher compliment than to display his attainments in English phraseology, and as he stretched out his hand exclaimed in rough, Yankee style, "How are you?"

They were encouraged to expect the New Testament in English, when they had learned to read it, and quite recently they have received this also, from the same source They appear greatly delighted with these gifts, and many of them make rapid progress in acquiring our language Soon after they had received the gift of the English Testament, and had passed around and rendered their thankful salutations, one of them came forward and pointed out the Sermon on the Mount, which he found, and read quite fluently a few verses of it

Very much depends on the influence by which these men are surrounded, as many of them will be likely to become interpreters and instructors to other companies which may be brought to the Atlantic coast, and there is much reason to hope for good results from the auspices beginning already made

The Grave of William Henry Harrison.—In the Legislature of this State a few days since Mr Yeatman, of Hamilton, introduced a bill providing for the accepting of a deed of the land which contains the tomb of Gen William H Harrison, and for improving and beautifying the same A short description of the place and its surroundings may therefore be of interest, especially to those who have never visited the spot.

North Bend is in the extreme south western corner of Ohio being merely a flag and coaling station, where the Ohio and Mississippi and the Indianapolis and Lafayette Railroads diverge It is sixteen miles from Cincinnati and three miles from Indiana line. The old homestead of Gen Harrison is quite near the station house Thence he was called to the State Legislature, and by an overwhelming majority to the Presidential chair The career of the hero of Tippecanoe and the Thames needs no mention here His reputation is not local but national, and the great West owes an immense debt of gratitude to the defender of its borders, And how have these obligations been fulfilled? Across the railroads already mentioned and about one fourth of a mile from the homestead, is a knoll that rises perhaps one hundred feet above the river This was, for many years, the General's choice as his last resting place The view from the summit is a grand one.—At your feet is the Ohio—the beautiful river—which here makes a double bend, and can be seen for miles in either direction Upon the other side of the knoll can be traced in the distance the course of the Miami before it enters the Ohio four miles below Almost upon the summit of the knoll is the vault that contains all that is mortal of Gen Harrison It is of plain brick with a rough board door, and is covered with turf and weeds Such is the resting place of the only President Ohio ever gave to the nation As seen from the river the tomb presents a striking appearance, even in its rude state It is hoped the present effort will be successful, and that a more fitting memorial will adorn the resting place of the worthy hero —[Cleveland (O) Herald

The Palace of the Cæsars.—Miss Brewster writes from Rome to The Boston Daily Advertiser the following account of the excavations on the site of the Palace of the Cæsars which the Italian Government has just purchased of the ex Emperor Napoleon

Chevalier Rosa is the emperor of excavators, he is not a learned archæologist, not even a good classical scholar, but he is a true nineteenth century man practical systematic and a strict utilitarian The Roman archæologists are wonderful men, nowhere in the world can be found the superiors of Padre Fougerge de Rossi Henzen, Visconti and some others But with all their vast amount of learning they have made no such satisfactory work as Rosa who is a pigmy to them in point of scientific knowledge They have contented themselves with digging holes, taking out works of art satisfying some mooted point among the learned, and then leaving the discovered buildings to go to ruin As to the information of the unlearned this has been disregarded by most of them Rosa on the contrary, took the Palace of the Cæsars and has worked very differently, every step of the way he has marked every inch has been examined, every fresco and decoration has been sacredly preserved, and every notion carefully studied and labelled so that "he who runs may read" Persons of ordinary education can go there and see before them not only the hill as Augustus lived on it, but trace out the mysterious galleries of the house of Tiberius's father, see where Cicero lived and his rival Lucius Hortensius, who watered his fruit trees with wine and wept for the death of tame fish And not only these, but the sacred walls of Romulus, the pomærium, the ancient gates and the very spot of the Ara Maxima can be seen—places whose sites have been quarreled over for centuries by the learned. We can stand by a well on whose curb are the marks of the chain by which Roman women drew water before the period of aqueducts Practical common sense, order system, and care have done more on that little spot in a short time than the learned have accomplished for ages in all Rome So no wonder the Italian Government passed over the claims of the learned Roman archæologists, and selected Rosa as the superintendent-in-chief of the whole commission of Roman excavations

Practical Suggestions.—It is poor economy to reset thin wheel tires

Every farmer should have a brand to mark his cattle and tools It will save its cost, of ten

A wagon shed, centrally located and easy of access, is a great convenience It is an investment that will pay

A barn, located square up to the highway, like a city block, is worth about half price No land is too valuable for buildings.

Every prudent farmer will avail himself of the comparative leisure of winter, to put every vehicle and implement in complete repair

Don't live another year without a tool room. It will save hours of vexatious search for forks and shovels, that should be ready without a moment's delay.

Two dollars a day for a farm hand, makes it important that he should have good tools to work with They cost considerable. Insist that he use them for the purpose for which they are made.

If new tools, unpainted, are soaked with raw, linseed oil, they will work easier, and last longer. Why don't manufacturers do it by the wholesale?

It seems reasonable that a laboring horse should have a room to lie in at night, where he can turn over and shift about.

If your colts are hard to get into the barn, after their daily exercise, let them find a few oats in their manger after coming in, and that trouble is over.

The reason why the horse rubs off his blanket nights, is, the girt hurts him. Have it padded and looser, and fasten the blanket partly under the breast, and perhaps by a crupper.

The elliptic springs on most freight wagons are too light, and often nearly close with the load. Then the draft is positively increased, and the load liable to injury.

Better pay a carpenter for flights of stairs in the barn, where needed, than a doctor for mending bones broken by using ladders. Rule. Things in daily use should be exactly adapted to the need.

R. H EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions Trade Marks or Designs

No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street Boston,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries Caveats Specifications Assignments and all papers for Patents executed on reasonable terms with dispatch Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar Assignments recorded in Washington

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors

TESTIMONIALS

"I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents"

"Mr R H Eddy has made for me THIRTY applications for Patents having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART"
